

Journal of Rural Development

INSTRUCTIONS TO AUTHORS

Procedure:

Communication: The National Institute of Rural Development and Panchayati Raj welcomes articles of interest representing original work, analytical papers and papers based on review of extensive literature on economic, sociological, psychological, political and administrative aspects of rural development for publication in its quarterly Journal of Rural Development (JRD). All communication should be addressed to the Editor, Journal of Rural Development, National Institute of Rural Development and Panchayati Raj, Rajendranagar, Hyderabad - 500 030, India (e-mail: cdc.nird@gov.in). The Editor will correspond with the main author.

Declaration: Each article should be accompanied with a declaration by all the authors that (1) They are authors of the article in the order in which listed; and (2) the article is original, has not been published and has not been submitted for publication elsewhere. If quoted more than 500 words/a table/a figure from a published work in the article, a copy of permission obtained from the respective copyright holder should be enclosed.

It is the author's responsibility to obtain permission in writing for the use of all previously published material, not that of the Editor or publisher. Authors are responsible for payment of any permission.

Submissions on OJMS: This is to inform that the Journal of Rural Development (JRD) accepts papers through the Online Journal Management System (OJMS). The softcopy of the paper, written in the prescribed format, must be submitted by uploading it on the OJMS site (<http://nirdprojms.in/>). The authors must register themselves and obtain a unique ID on OJMS, in order to submit the papers.

Plagiarism Detection: All the submitted manuscripts undergo plagiarism check. The similarity index bar set by the journal is 10%. Any submission that exceeds the similarity index bar set by the journal will be rejected.

Review System: Every article will be reviewed by a masked peer view by two referees. The criteria for acceptance of articles are contemporary relevance, contribution to knowledge, clear and logical analysis, fairly good English and sound methodology of research articles. The Editor reserves the right to reject any manuscript as unsuitable in topic, style or form without requesting external review.

Editing: Every accepted article will be edited. If the author wishes to see the edited copy, he/she should make this request at the time of sending the article. Since this involves a minimum of an additional four weeks' time in the production process, we will assume your concurrence to our editing unless specified by you.

Copyright: The author owns the copyright of the article until the article is accepted by the JRD for publication. After the acceptance communication, the copyright of the article is owned by the National Institute of Rural Development and Panchayati Raj and should not be reproduced elsewhere without the written permission of the Editor and the authors of the article.

Abstract: The first page of the article should contain an abstract not exceeding 250 words.

Word Limit: Papers should generally contain between 4,000-6,000 words, including the abstract (not exceeding 250 words), notes, bibliography/ references, tables, etc. Shorter papers may be accepted by arrangement with the Editor.

Reduce Bias in Language: Constructions that might imply bias against or stereotypes on the basis of gender, ethnicity, disability or age should be avoided.

Spellings: Use British spellings in all cases instead of American (Concise Oxford Dictionary).

Underline Words: Words underlined in a manuscript appear in italics when typeset. Don't underline words to emphasise them.

Abbreviations: A term to be abbreviated must, on its first appearance, be written out completely and followed immediately by its abbreviation in parentheses. Thereafter, the abbreviation may be used without further explanation.

Numbers: Numerals should be used for numbers 10 and above. Numbers lower than 10 and common fractions numbers that begin a sentence/title should be spelt out.

Tables & Figures: Type each Table on a separate page. Insert a location note at the appropriate place in the text. Minimise the use of Tables. Since JRD is printed in black & white, the Tables & Figures should be converted to greyscale.

Notes: Footnotes should be listed as notes in an appendix and not typed at the bottom of the manuscript pages on which they appear.

Quotations: Verbatim citation of fewer than 40 words may be incorporated in the text, enclosed with double quotation marks. A quotation of more than 40 words may be displayed as a free-standing block, indenting five spaces from the margin. Do not use quotation marks for the block quotation. Give the source of the quotation in the form of author's last name, year and page number/s in parentheses.

Citation of Sources: When paraphrasing or referring to an idea contained in another work, the author must cite the source in the text. The surname of the author and the year of publication may be inserted at the appropriate point as part of the narrative or in parentheses.

As far as possible, all articles and notes should be organised into the following sections: (i) Introduction, (ii) Hypothesis, (iii) Methodological Issues Involved, (iv) Limitations of Analysis, (v) Policy Implications, and (vi) Conclusions, Sub-sections should carry clean and distinct subheadings.

Author's Contribution: For papers having more than one author, the contribution of each author should be specified.

Reference List

Author/s may follow the latest APA style (7th Edition) while preparing the list of references.

The Institute will provide soft copies of published papers to authors.

Perspectives/Commentaries

Analytical articles on good practices, State-level schemes, documentation of best practices in rural development, field notes, and brief research notes will be considered for this section. The articles can have a maximum of 3000 words, whereas the minimum word limit should be 2000.

Besides word limit, the author instructions for journal articles will be applicable for perspectives and it needs to satisfy all requirements to qualify for publication.

Note: The final decision of publishing the submitted article rests with the Editorial Board members and Editor, JRD.
